FALL 2022

"Life starts all over again when it gets crisp in the fall."
—F. Scott Fitzgerald, The Great Gatsby

Save the Date for the 2023 Winter Program

5:30 p.m. Tuesday, February 21

We are delighted to have Dr. Sharon Mabry as our featured presenter for the 2023 Winter Program! Dr. Mabry will discuss her latest book, The Postmaster's Daughter, a murder mystery novel set in East Tennessee in the 1930s. The presentation will take place in the Art + Design Building, Heydel Hall with a book signing to follow. Copies of the book will be available to purchase at the event.

What's New?

Martina Malvasi, Director of Library Services

After a successful search, we are thrilled to announce that Dr. Martina Malvasi has accepted the position as director of library services at the Woodward Library beginning January 1, 2023. Dr. Malvasi has earned a bachelor's degree in political science, master's degrees in library science, health and human services, and legal studies, and a doctoral degree in business administration.

Tamille West, IT Analyst - Digital Services

We are also excited to introduce Tamille West who began working as the IT analyst for digital services at the Woodward Library on December 1, 2022. Tamille is responsible for maintaining the Digital Library and Veterans' Oral History Project websites, and the university's institutional repository ASPIRE. She earned a bachelor's degree from SUNY Empire State College in 2016.

Librarian Spotlight

Kebede Wordofa, Coordinator of Technology Resources

I was born and grew up in a small town in Ethiopia. I'm the youngest of 10 siblings -- 4 brothers and 6 sisters. I had lived and worked in 3 different African countries before permanently relocating to the United States in November 2009 with my family. Prior to moving to Clarksville and joining the talented group of librarians at the Woodward Library in July 2011, I lived and worked in Dallas, TX. I graduated from Addis Ababa University with a BS in library and information and a computer science minor. In 1997, I earned a MS in information science & information technology from Addis Ababa University. As the Systems Librarian & the Coordinator of Technology Resources Unit, I manage key library systems, and oversee and coordinate the operations, activities, and projects of the Unit that include planning, deployment, and management of the Library's technological infrastructure.

My wife and I are proud parents of two wonderful sons who are currently attending college in Boston. Nathenael is a junior at Harvard and Yonathan is a freshman at MIT. My family and I became US citizens in 2016, and I voted for the first time in that year's general elections. I like reading true stories and biographies of great personalities that have made significant changes in society -- politically, economically, socially, scientifically, and technologically -- such as Nelson Mandela, Martin Luther King, Jr., Barack Obama, Mother Teresa, Steve Jobs, and Princess Diana, just to mention a few. In my free time, I like spending quality time with family and friends, watching late night comedy shows and live soccer games on weekends, listening to global news, going on hikes, and playing Chess on my tablet. I like fixing broken stuff in my house, even though I may not be that great at it!

Kebede Recommends: Bob Marley: A Life from Beginning to End Black Panther: Wakanda Forever
