The Woodward Library Society

Summer 2019

Newsletter

Past President's Letter

It can be both fun and useful to reflect on the events of a just-completed year. Let's do that for a few minutes. The first things that pop into my mind are the seasonal programs of the Woodward Library Society. The 2018 Summer Program was a woodworking art exhibit and lecture presented by Beatrix Brockman, associate professor of German. She had several objects on display and described her "woodworking passion" for us. To the delight of her audience, she gave away several of her creations on the spot. The exhibit was developed by Gina Garber, professor of library administration and digital services coordinator. Our Winter Program was a Celebration of Scholarship featuring publications by forty-two APSU faculty (current and retired). This has become a tradition and a way for library patrons to see what APSU professors are doing outside the classroom. Gina Garber created the exhibit showcasing the faculty publications, and Sarah Myers, library associate in archives and special collections, compiled the bibliography.

The Spring Social was a big success—again. The program was provided by Michael and John Doubler who talked about and performed the music of Uncle Dave Macon of Grand Ole Opry fame. The Doubler brothers are the great-grandsons of Uncle Dave Macon. Michael is also Uncle Dave's biographer. He had copies of his book, Dixie Dewdrop: The Uncle Dave Macon Story, for sale and autographing. Once again, creative members of the library faculty and staff, led by Gina Garber, gave the tables a fine touch. An additional highlight was a silent auction of gift baskets donated by the Woodward Library Society's Board members. The Society realized $1,330 from the auction. As an aside, I will mention that the Society's main source of income is from membership dues and contributions, which totaled $18,750 for the year. All of the income goes toward subscriptions for online resources and the endowment.

A sincere thanks goes to the Woodward Library Society Board. It has been a pleasure working with them and with Library Director Joe Weber. I also want to give special recognition to outgoing Board members Bonnie Hodge, Jennie Preston-Sabin, Wes Atkinson, and Gina Garber. We welcome incoming members Amelia Allen Hartz, Andrea Goble, Bobette Bouton, and Christina Chester-Fangman. The new president of the Woodward Library Society is Nick Tooley, APSU Class of 1994.

We had a good year, and I wish our Woodward Library Society members all the best in 2019-2020.

Sincerely,
Dewey A. Browder
Past President

Renewal Reminder

Membership renewals were due on July 1. If you haven't renewed your 2019-2020 membership, please take a moment to send us the renewal form so you won't miss our upcoming events.

New Faculty Rep

We'd like to welcome Christina Chester-Fangman as the new Faculty Representative to the Board.

Outgoing Faculty Rep

Gina Garber served as Board Faculty Representative for the past five years. Thanks for all your hard work, Gina!

Upcoming Event

The Woodward Library Society is working with Healing Arts Project, Inc. (HAPI) to bring you an event in October.

Fall 2019

Classes begin on Monday, August 26, at the Clarksville campus! We are excited for the Library to be full of students again!

New President

Nick Tooley

On July 1, Nick Tooley began his term as president of the Woodward Library Society. Nick is an attorney whose office is located on Franklin St. in downtown Clarksville. He earned a B.A. in history and an M.A. in military history from Austin Peay. He received his law degree from the University of Tennessee College of Law in 1998. Nick enjoys travel, reading, fine wine and dining, and learning about history and various cultures.

Librarian Spotlight

Jenny Harris

Jenny Harris graduated from APSU with a bachelor's degree in communication and a double minor in health and human performance and women's and gender studies. She attended graduate school at the University of Kentucky where she earned her Master of Science in Library Science degree with an academic librarianship concentration. Jenny returned to APSU as a Library faculty member in the fall of 2016, and currently serves as the liaison for the College of Education, African American studies, and women's and gender studies. She and her wife Joey have a ten-month old daughter named Lennon. Jenny enjoys reading non-fiction, especially memoirs. She also loves attending concerts and anything outdoorsy including camping, hiking, and canoeing.

Jenny Recommends:

I'll Be Gone in the Dark by Michelle McNamara

Call Me By Your Name

In Memoriam

Two founding Board members passed away this summer. Rubye Patch, longtime Clarksville resident and local historian, and Inga Filippo, former librarian at the Woodward Library, were charter members of the Woodward Library Society. They were also members of the Clarksville-Montgomery County Arts & Heritage Development Council and the Montgomery County Historical Society, and were involved in numerous other activities and projects. They will be greatly missed.

The Woodward Library Society

A non-profit organization affiliated with the Austin Peay State University Foundation

Contact Information:

The Woodward Library Society
P.O. Box 4595
Austin Peay State University
Clarksville, TN 37044

Phone: 931-221-7346

Library Director's Office:

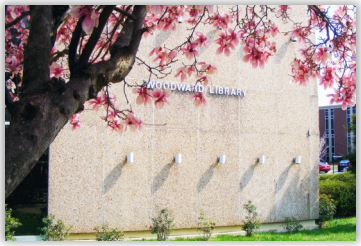
Phone: 931-221-7618
E-mail: weberj@apsu.edu

Library Society Website:

http://library.apsu.edu/society

Board of Directors:

Nick Tooley, President
Stuart Bonnington, Vice President
Andrea Spofford, Secretary
Marsha Lyle-Gonga, Treasurer
Dewey Browder, Past President
Bobette Bouton, Director
Jim Diehr, Director
Andrea Goble, Director
Ken Grambihler, Director
Ann Silverberg, Director
Amelia Allen Hartz, Director
Mercy Cannon, ex-officio
Christina Chester-Fangman, ex-officio
Jerica Swiger, ex-officio
Joe Weber, ex-officio



Austin Peay State University