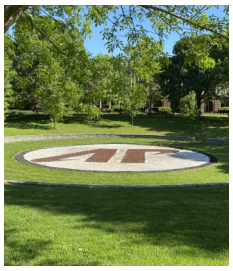
Membership Renewal Reminder

Welcome to the 2020—2021 fiscal year! July 1 marked the beginning of a new year for the Woodward Library Society, and if you haven't renewed your membership, please take a moment to send us the renewal form. We are working hard to continue to offer you quality programs and greatly appreciate your loyal support. To renew, simply click on the Membership Form, fill it out, and mail it along with your check to the address listed on the form, or call 931-221-7618 to pay with a credit card. Thank you for supporting the Felix G. Woodward Library and Austin Peay State University!

Fall Program

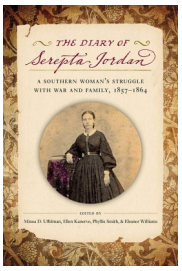
The Covid-19 pandemic has brought many new challenges in the last few months, and we are dedicated to finding solutions while keeping everyone safe. As much as we would love to meet in person for a program this fall, it may not be feasible at this time. In an effort to continue with social distancing measures, we are considering a virtual Fall Program. More information will be announced as plans are finalized.

What's New



2020 Fall Semester

APSU's Clarksville Campus is set to resume in-person classes on Monday, August 24. The Woodward Library will be open to current students, staff, and faculty seven days a week. Masks are required inside the building and seating areas have been rearranged to allow for social distancing.



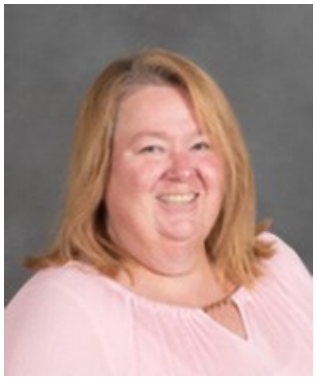
The Diary of Serepta Jordan

We were sad to miss the Society Social in the spring and the premier presentation by Minoa Uffelman, Ellen Kanervo, Phyllis Smith, and Eleanor Williams. Their book, The Diary of Serepta Jordan is out now and available from the University of Tennessee Press.

Kristy Cunningham

We would like to welcome Kristy Cunningham to APSU! Kristy began working at the Woodward Library in July as the new business librarian. She earned a business management degree and an MBA from Tennessee Tech, and a master of science in information science from UT, Knoxville.

MEET OUR NEW BOARD OFFICERS



Tracy Nichols, Vice President

Dr. Tracy Shearon Nichols is in her 16th year at APSU. Prior to returning to higher education, she worked for The Principal Financial Group as a Client Services Specialist and Director in Group Benefits where she received the prestigious honor of selection to the Advisory Council. During her time at APSU, Professor Nichols has served as the Advisor to the Communication Department's conditionally admitted students, Library Liaison, Mid Sweden Coordinator, Online Public Speaking Coordinator, and Faculty Senator for the College of Arts and Letters. She is a member of the Service Learning Board, and served as the Undergraduate Coordinator for the Department of Communication. Her primary areas of instruction include Organizational Communication, Public Relations Campaigns, Portfolio Development, Corporate Social Responsibility, Communication Leadership, Public Speaking, and she teaches a Service-Learning Study Abroad class that spends time with non-profit organizations locally then works with the same organizations on a global level during Spring Break in London. She also serves the state on the Tennessee Arts Commission Theatre Grants Panel and the Arts Build Communities Grants Panel.

Walt Lord, Director

Major General (Retired) Walt Lord culminated a 36-year Army career in July 2018. He and his wife, Grace, are Philadelphia, PA natives, and have decided to make their "forever home" in Clarksville. An Armored Cavalryman, Walt spent the latter stages of his career working in international affairs and defense policy. He is a graduate of LaSalle University, the Army and Naval War Colleges, the George C. Marshall European Center for Security Studies, the NATO Defense College, and he is a National Security Fellow of the Maxwell School at Syracuse University. Walt and Grace have lived and served in Germany, Belgium, Rhode Island, and several times in Pennsylvania and Washington, DC. Walt has deployed to Afghanistan and twice to Bosnia and Herzegovina. The Lords have two sons. Ryan has recently completed a 7-year Army career at Fort Campbell, and Drew is an Army lieutenant, currently stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, MO. In June, 2019, Walt joined FileBank Inc. as Vice President, Government Division. He enjoys serving on boards and committees of several non-profits including Operation Stand Down Tennessee and Warrior Rising, and he and Grace are both volunteers at the Fort Campbell USO.

Harry Young, Director

Dr. Harold A. Young is an associate professor in the Department of Political Science & Public Management at APSU. He has a Ph.D. in philosophy (political science) from Georgia State University and a J.D. (LL.b./C.L.E.) from the University of the West Indies/Norman Manley School of Law. He is a member of the Belize Bar where he practiced law before emigrating to the U.S. His law practice sparked an interest in judicial institutions generally and, more specifically, the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council and his forthcoming book, "The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council and the Caribbean Court of Justice: Navigating Independence and Changing Political Environments." His current project, "The Survival of Gangs: Institutions or Outlaws?" involves extensive fieldwork in his native Belize. He currently serves as Chair of the APSU Institution Review Board, faculty advisor to the Pre-Law Society, Campus NAACP, and a cadre of students of political science. His work is published in the Journal of Race, Politics & International Social Studies Review, Endarch: Journal of Black Political Research, Journal of International & Global Studies, Economics, Politics and Regional development, and the Journal of Global South Studies.
